Themselves Worthy of Recognition

PAT HOLMES

Pat Holmes has been a truly outstanding member of the 1967 senior class. He has been a very active participant in sports and club activities as well as in the senior play. However, such extracurricular matters have never hampered his academic studies. He has maintained a high scholastic average throughout all four high school years.

His membership has been held by the Beta Club, Monogram Club, Band, Annual Staff, for which he was photographer, and the Student Council.

Pat's honors have been many. As a sophomore, he served as a waiter at the Junior-Senior Prom. His junior year was climaxed by his being marshal to commencement exercises, and he attended the scholarship banquet held each year for the top eight students in each class. He was a Benson representative to Boys' State the summer preceding his senior year. He also won the title of a Morehead County Winner. His senior year, he was voted "Most Likely to Succeed" by his fellow classmates.

Pat has participated in three sports: Football, Basketball, and Track. He has also acted as sports comentator to the Benson Review.

After graduation, he plans to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and make journalism his major.

Pat Holmes has indeed been an asset to our class.

JOYCE JERNIGAN

Another who has proved herself worthy of the title "Outstanding" is Joyce Jernigan. Voted "Most Intellectual" girl by her classmates, Joyce is destined to go places. Her high school record is evidence of this fact. Though she has participated in many extracurricular matters, her scholastic standing has remained high and worthy of recognition.

Her activities during four years of high school have included membership in the F.H.A. Club, F.T.A. Club, Glee Club, Beta Club, of which she was the secretary her senior year; Student Council for two years, and the Annual Staff.

As a sophomore, Joyce was elected secretary of her class, and was chosen to serve as a waitress at the Junior-Senior Prom. Her junior year ended with her acting as marshal at graduating exercises, her rating being second in rank. For the past three years, her high academic abilities have enabled her to attend the annual Scholarship Banquet. During the summer after her junior year, she attended Girls' State at the University of North Carolina for a week.

Her senior year, Joyce was a member of the "pymalion" cast. She was also invited to attend the Scholarship Weekend Program at East Carolina College, which is sponsored in honor of rising college freshmen who have exhibited scholastic abilities and potential character. The highlight of her senior year is claimed by her editorship of the TATLER which was indeed a new and challenging experience.

Following graduation, Joyce plans to make East Carolina her alma mater where she will study math. The senior class is proud to have had Joyce amidst its members.

DAN McLAMB

A friendly smile and a great personality make Dan McLamb one of the outstanding members of his senior class and have won him the title of "Friendliest" in the senior superlatives. Along with his smile and personality, he has the desire and ability to learn; his high school record speaks for itself.

He has been an active participant in many school functions, scholastic and otherwise. He has belonged to the Beta Club and the Monogram Club, and he acted as vice-president of his sophomore class. He also participated in the class play his senior year.

Sports have maintained an active place in Dan's school days, for he has proved himself a star of both football and basketball. His senior year, he was voted co-captain of the basketball and football squads. He performed a remarkable feat in his football career and, as a result, was chosen All-Conference and All-East of 1966.

Throughout his four years of high school, Dan has earned many honors. His high grades have enabled him to serve as waiter at the Junior Senior his sophomore year, to act as a marshal his junior year, and to attend the Scholarship Banquet for two years. During the summer separating his junior and senior years. Dan represented our school while attending Boys' State. He was also selected as a Morehead nominee.

Dan hopes to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and make Business Administration his major study. His later plans include law school. His outstanding character assures his success in his future pursuits.

A SALUTE . . . To Those Who Have Proved

DAN SURLES

A terrific personality, a friendly smile, and a great deal of intellect are the basic traits that make Dan Surles an outstanding member of our senior class. As a result classmates voted him the "Most Popular" boy.

He has been very active throughout his four years in high school in such clubs as the Beta, Monogram, and Future Teachers of America. He held the position of class Secretary-Treasurer his freshman year.

Dan's grades have remained very high, and as a reward he has attended for the past three years the annual Scholarship Banquet. He was also chosen to serve as waiter to the Junior-Senior Prom his sophomore year and as marshal his junior year.

He is extremely interested in sports such as football and basketball both in which he has actively participated during his high school years.

Such a well-rounded personality confirmed his nomination for the Morehead Scholarship which was indeed a great honor.

Dan's future plans include attending either the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill or North Carolina State University. The senior class of 1967 is proud to have had Dan as a member, and we wish him a long life of success.

CATHY CANADAY

Voted the "Most Likely to Succeed" girl of the senior class, Cathy Canaday has truly proved to us that she deserved this title. Taking on many activities, including four zealous years of basketball. Cathy has made her high school career. Nevertheless she has upheld a high school record of outstanding commendation.

Her membership has been included in these clubs: Glee Club, F.H.A. Club, Monogram Club, Student Council, and F.T.A., for which she served as president her senior year. During her junior year, Cathy held a part in the junior play, and her senior year marked her as the star of "Pymalion", a production by the senior class.

Cathy has received many honors, all based on her high scholastic abilities. She was a marshal over the commencement exercises her junior year, waitress at the Junior-Senior Prom her sophomore year and attendant to the Scholarship Banquet for 3 years. For her outstanding work in history, Cathy was selected to attend Governor's School in Winston-Salem. She was named Benson High School's 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow due to her home-making knowledge and attitude.

Cathy plans to attend St. Mary's Junior College, from where she will transfer to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Whatever she does, Cathy is sure to be a success.

HAMPTON WHITTINGTON

Our senior class throughout its twelve years of existence would never have been the same without that mishievous, intellectual, and dynamic member—Hampton Whittington.

His extracurricular activities during four years of high school have been numerous, but, all the while, he has attained an honorable scholastic standing. In fact, high grades, outstanding character, and good sportsmanship led to his being named "Most Intellectual" boy by the graduating class and nominee for the Morehead Scholarship.

Hampton's high school years have been anything but dull! He was class vice-president his freshman year, representative to the Student Council his sophomore year, and president of the Monogram and Beta Club and sports editor for the Annual Staff his senior. He served as waiter to the Prom, acted as chief marshal his junior year, and attended the scholarship banquet each spring.

Throughout his school, Hampton has been an active and valuable Phantom. He has participated in football, basketball, and baseball. He was voted Co-Captain of both his football and basketball teams by his fellow players and all-conference by the football conference coaches. His performances have been outstanding.

Following his graduation, Hampton plans to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to study accounting. We are sure Hampton will be a success at whatever he undertakes.

Thank You, Merchants, For Your Support

The Tatler Nineteen Sixty Seven, a project which has required much time, much patience, and much work, is now a finished product.

We, the co-editors, are proud of what we have done, and we realize that we never could have succeeded without the help of...

—Our Parents
—Mr. Bob Chappell
—Mr. Calvin Warren
—Mrs. Espy Holmes
—Mr. Ed Goldston
—Mrs. Louise Lambert
—Mrs. G. G. Gaines
—Mrs. Lucy Uzzle
—Mr. Harold Strawbridge
Strawbridge Studios
—Mr. Ralph Delano
—The Tatler Staff
—Our Faculty
—The student body

To you, we extend our deepest gratitude.

IMPRESSION,

Impressionism,

Impressionistic . . .

...life is like
a slow-moving hourglass:
years pass by
like tiny grains of sand,
and all tomorrows
become yesterdays.

Yes, time goes on and on,
yet a part of me
is lost forever
in the memories of the past...
